The Center on International Education Benchmarking (CIEB) has attributed Switzerland's economic success to its technical vocational education and training (TVET) system which is one of the strongest in the world.

The Swiss Dual TVET System combines work-based training at a host company with instruction at a vocational classroom. It has provided the Swiss economy with a highly qualified and efficient young work force, benefitting:

- Youths: Exposure to working life in a chosen occupation and real live work environment and ethics experience
- Companies: A young workforce with relevant skills and knowledge, including future managers with practical and theoretical background that correlates with their needs
- Government: Supports Swiss competitiveness, offering young people a wide choice of education pathways and ensuring future employment. Youth unemployment is kept low.

SWITZERLAND'S INTERNATIONAL RANKINGS

- NO. 1 in GLOBAL COMPETITIVENESS REPORT 2016/2017 (World Economic Forum)
- 2ND HIGHEST Nominal Per Capital Income @ USD79,578 (IMF Outlook October 2016)
- NO. 1 in GLOBAL INNOVATION INDEX 2016 (Cornell University, INSEAD and WIPO)

The Speaker would share the following:

- The Swiss TVET System, its strength, the roles and responsibilities of main stakeholders
- Key success factors of the Swiss Model
- Benefits in different areas

Who should attend:

CEOs, Directors, General Managers, HR Managers
