- ▶ Discover how IoT products from Microsoft allow you to improve operations and efficiencies
- ▶ Connect to the World of Smart Manufacturing with IoT Automation
- ▶ Harness the Power of IoT Data

Today's manufacturing companies are starting to realise the vast opportunities offered by Industry 4.0 and the Internet of Things (IoT). The wide range of technology offerings can be almost overwhelming for leaders, decision-makers and managers in operations and manufacturing, which is why Microsoft is pleased to invite you to the Microsoft Manufacturing Day.

Discover how IoT products from Microsoft will allow you to improve operations and efficiencies, and even completely transform your business model. These advantages apply whether you use a Windows OS platform, Unix OS (including Debian, Fedora, Raspbian, Ubuntu or Yocto Linux) or other platforms like mbed and TI-RTOS. Find out how Microsoft partners are delivering new ways to achieve IoT automation, harness the power of IoT data, capture customer intent with CRM on connected devices, and more.
