INTRODUCTION

In today's evolving work environment, creating safer and healthier workplaces is essential for organisational resilience and employee wellbeing. The FMM SKLB & SOCSO OSH Seminar 2026: Empowering Safer and Healthier Workplace brings together industry players to share practical insights, strengthen safety practices and promote a proactive OSH culture.

Through expert sharing by officers from key government agencies, participants will gain valuable insights into current regulations, emerging trends and industry best practices. The seminar aims to equip organisations with practical knowledge and strategies to safeguard employees, enhance workplace wellbeing, and support sustainable business performance.

Objectives

- Enhance understanding of current Safety, Health and Environment (SHE) regulations, standards, and industry best practices to support compliance, effective risk management, and workplace hazard control.
- Recognise the value of a strong safety culture in driving productivity, safeguarding employee well-being, and strengthening long-term business sustainability and corporate reputation.
- Equip participants with practical knowledge and tools to proactively identify, assess, and control workplace risks while fostering continuous improvement in occupational safety and health performance.
- Strengthen leadership commitment and employee engagement in SHE initiatives to foster a proactive safety mindset and shared responsibility for maintaining a safe, healthy, and sustainable workplace.
